A Synopsis for Proposed Research

A STUDY OF IMPACT OF UNION BUDGETARY PROVISIONS ON DEVELOPMENT OF AGRICULTURAL SECTOR IN MAHARASHTRA

(With special reference to Budgetary Provisions 2013 – 2023)

Submitted for

The Registration of Ph.D. Degree Under
The Faculty of Commerce and Management

स्वामी रामानंद तीर्थ
मराठवाडा विद्यापीठ, नांदेड

SWAMI RAMANAND TEERTH MARATHWADA

UNIVERSITY, NANDED

Research Student

Mr. Pawar Satish Dattahari

Research Supervisor

Dr. More Disha Namdeo
Assistant Professor & Head of Department of Commerce
Research Supervisor
Shri Guru Buddhiswami Mahavidyalaya, Purna.

Research Centre

Late Sow. Kamaltai Jamkar Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Parbhani

April 2022

Introduction

Since the introduction of Planning Commission in India the provisions for all inclusive Union budget is made on the Recommendation of Planning Commission of India. India has the higher number of working population in agricultural sector; its economic base remains agricultural. Provisions were made for agricultural development in India since green revolution. A lot of agriculture development with introduction of modern technology and hybrid varieties of various food produce i.e., crops. It is to be noted that is the globalization there had has been various agricultural reforms to improve the contribution of agriculture sector in the GDP. The union budgetary provisions have been such kind of efforts to improve the production of agriculture sector on one hand and to raise per capita income of farmers on other. The researcher has selected the topic "the impact of Union budgetary provisions on development of agricultural sector in Maharashtra" (with special reference to last 10 years that is 2013 to 2023) to put light on enquire into development of agriculture sector with the provisions made in the budget.

The proposed research topic is an honest enquiry in the rate and ratio of development of agricultural share in GDP and per capita income of farmers along with improvement in the agricultural sector in last decade i.e. 2013 to 2023

The budgetary provisions are made in the union budget for the agriculture sector in Maharashtra will be the area of the study. The researcher will refer to the budgetary provisions made in each financial year since 2013 and its impact over the development of agriculture sector and Agro community in Maharashtra.

Significance of the study

The proposed research work is significant in many ways for it will be enquire the impact of budgetary provisions on Agriculture sector in Maharashtra by referring and analyzing the provisions in its real execution and implementation. It will also be helpful in understanding to growth, improvement and contribution of agriculture sector in Maharashtra to the GDP of India. Besides, it will also be helpful in understanding social, economical problems related to agriculture sector of India.

Scope and limitations

Studies related to agricultural development in India has vast coverage. The researcher therefore selected the union budgetary provisions related to agriculture sector in Maharashtra. The study is limited to Union budgetary provisions for agriculture sector in Maharashtra only.

Review of literature

As per the process for progress of the research we need a handy review of literature. The researcher will analyze and study earlier research work done related to the topic.

Objectives of the study

- To analyze budgetary provisions on agricultural sector
- To study role of budget in the development of agriculture sector
- To study the rate of growth in agriculture sector in the light of budgetary provisions
- To focus upon the rate of modernization in agriculture sector in Maharashtra
- To enquire into rate of contribution of agriculture sector in Maharashtra to the GDP
- To study per capita income ratio of Agro community in Maharashtra

Hypothesis

- The central budget plays an important role in the development of the agricultural sector of the state of Maharashtra
- There is contribution of agriculture sector in Maharashtra to the GDP of India is more than other states
- There is significant difference between the per capita income of the farming community in Maharashtra, is lower than that of other sectors
- The development of the agricultural sector in Maharashtra has been greatly influenced by the Union Budgetary provisions

Research Methodology

The proposed research work will be carried out by adopting analytical, descriptive and empiricial research methodologies. Various statistical tools such as graphs, tables, pie chart will be used for the purpose of the study.

Data collection

Data Collection will be made through various sources like reference books, budget books, visiting website related to government and Agriculture Department.

Primary Data

The budget of last 10 years will be collected and analyze from 2013- 2023

Secondary Data

Various reference books, critical commentaries, research article, earlier research done on the topic; journals and related website will be the base for the study.

Research Design

Chapter one

Introduction

Detailing of agricultural sector and union budgets. Overall growth of Indian agricultural in general and Agriculture sector of Maharashtra in particular will be given here

Chapter Two

Review of Literature & Research Methodology

Earlier research work done on the topic will be placed here.

Chapter Three

Budgetary Provisions in Agricultural Sector

Various budgetary provisions related to development in agriculture sector in Maharashtra in last 10 budgets since 2013 with detail analysis will be placed here

Chapter Four

Data Collection and Interpretation

Chapter Five

Summery, Conclusion and Suggestions

Annexure

Research Supervisor

Dr. More Disha Namdeo
Assistant Professor& Head of Department of Commerce & Research Supervisor
Shri Guru Buddhiswami Mahavidyalaya, Purna

.

Research Student

Mr. Pawar Satish Dattahari